NAVY IN NEED OF REORGANIZATION SAYS PRESIDENT

Paul Morton Named to Head Commission in Charge of Plans.

To Emphasize Military Purpose of Department.

BUREAUS WORK TO SAME END

Washington, Jan. 28.—President Roosevelt is of the opinion that the organization of the navy department is not such as to bring the best results and he appointed a committee whose announced duty will be to "consider certain needs of the navy."

What President Wants.

The president has sent identical letters to each of the eight members of the commission, which is headed by Paul Morton, a former secretary of the navy, the other members being Justice Moody, also a former secretary of the navy; Judge A. G. Dayton, formerly chairman of the house naval affairs committee, and Rear Admirals S. B. Luce, A. T. Mahan, William Folger, Robley D. Evans and William S. Cowles, all of whom are on the retired list.

He sets out certain subjects for the commission to consider under two general heads, first as to the fundamental principles of an organization, that will insure an efficient preparation for war in time of peace, and secondly specific recommendations as to the changes in the present organization that will accomplish this result.

The letter is as follows:

Division of Responsibility.

January 27, 1909.

My Dear Sir—I have appointed you as a member of a commission to consider certain needs of the navy. The organization of the department is now such as to bring the best results, and there is a failure to co-ordinate the work of the bureaus and to make the department serve the one end for which it was created—that is, the development and handling of a first class fighting fleet. With this proposition in view I will ask you to consider:

1. All defects in the law under which the navy department is now organized, including especially the defects by which the authority of chiefs of bureaus is made in certain respects practically equal to—that of the secretary or the president.

2. The division of responsibility and consequent lack of co-ordination in the preparations for war and conduct of war.

3. The functions of certain bureaus as to see whether it is not possible to consolidate them.

Need Military Advisers.

4. The necessity of providing the secretary of the navy with military advisers, who are responsible to him for preparation for war.

5. The necessity for economical allotment and disbursement of appropriations and for a system which will insure strict accountability.

6. Finally, I want your views as to how best to recognize and emphasize the strictly military character of the navy, so that preparations for war shall be controlled under the secretary of the military branch of the navy, which bears the responsibility for the successful conduct of war operations.

I wish to have the above subjects considered under two general heads: First—As to the fundamental principles of an organization that will insure an efficient preparation for war in time of peace, a separate report under this head to be submitted at the earliest practicable date.

Facilities of Yards.

Second—Specific recommendations as to the changes in the present organization that will accomplish this result, the report under this head to be submitted later.

In addition to the above reports I desire your recommendations as to the number, location and general facilities of the navy yards, which are required by strategic considerations in time of war and for maintaining the fleet in constant readiness for war in time of peace. Sincerely yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Preceding by several hours the president's announcement was the issuance of a general order by Secretary Newberry, which had been approved by the president, designed to carry into effect the secretary's naval organization plans so far as they pertain to navy yards and naval stations.

Newberry Had Plan.

Its general purpose is to consolidate the manufacturing force at the navy yards, and its effect will be to make the commandant, while as here before paramount, resemble in his connection with yard work the president of a large industrial plant; the principal technical assistant becoming

Illinois Deadlock Unbroken and Legislature Adjourns Again Till Tuesday to Vote For U. S. Senator

Hopkins Makes No Headway Against Opposition—Test of Stephenson—Missouri Contest.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 28.—After one vote the legislature today adjourned until Tuesday. The leaders were: Hopkins, 72; Shurtliff, 15; Foss, 19; Stringer, 74.

The administration bill, providing for twenty millions for a ship canal from Lockport to Utica was introduced in the senate today and referred to the waterways committee. It provides for a commission of five members appointed by the governor to serve six years.

Yesterday, Deserated by Senator Jones and Representative Hull, two of the Deaneen leaders, who said they had fulfilled their caucus pledge, Senator Hopkins found no encouragement in yesterday's battle in the joint session. He lost on every ballot.

In the eighteenth Representative Hull went from Hopkins to Foss, saying that he considered himself no longer bound by the caucus action, and Black changed from Hopkins to Sherman, and Terrill from Hopkins to Sherman also.

Senator Jones deserted Hopkins for Foss, and on the nineteenth ballot Senator Hensen changed from Hopkins to Shurtliff; on the twenty-first from Shurtliff to Lieutenant Governor Oglesby.

On the twentieth ballot Senators Downing and Potter changed from Hopkins to Shurtliff and Representative Yates on the twenty-first.

On the twenty-first Senator Fink changed from Hopkins to William J. Calhoun and Representative Lane from Hopkins to Shurtliff and Representative Wright from Hopkins to Calhoun.

Monument to Ross.

Topeka, Kas., Jan. 28.—The Kansas legislature introduced a joint resolution to erect a bronze tablet in honor of Edmund Ross. The senator whose vote prevented the impeachment of President Johnson, was exiled from his state by public sentiment and died a year ago.

Missouri Contest.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 28.—The joint contest committee probably will meet late this afternoon. It is said there is little prospect of anything being done.

Stephenson's Strength.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 28.—A test of the strength of Senator Stephenson came today. It was expected if he

BRILLIANT YOUNG ACTRESS VICTIM OF FATAL MALADY—DIES AT DENVER, COL.

Flora Clark Young, Professionally Known as Lillian Lancaster, Will be Buried Here.

Mrs. Flora May Clark Young, known on the stage as Lillian Lancaster, and a popular Paducah girl, of great promise, died suddenly this morning of diabetes at Denver, Col., where she had gone for her health. Relatives here were notified today by telegraph.

Her sister, Mrs. H. H. Cleugh, of Regina, B. C., was with her at the time. Her husband, Mr. James Young, of the Louisville company, had been with her, but she became better and he rejoined his company. It is not known whether he was reached in time to return to Denver before his wife died. The telegram stated that the body would be brought to Paducah for burial, arriving probably Sunday night.

Mrs. Young was the youngest daughter of Mrs. S. H. Clark, 901 Clay street. She was a sweet, lovable girl, and more than usually gifted. She had achieved distinct success for one so young in her chosen career, the stage, and had retired only Thanksgiving day at Buffalo on the ing, under the commandant, the general manager.

The purport of the order was outlined by Secretary Newberry in a general statement. The order itself prescribes in detail the methods by which the plan is to be put into effect and the assignment of duties to respective officers. On February 13 the commandants are to forward to the navy department a report of what has been done in compliance with the order.

Panama, Jan. 28.—The Panama-United States treaty was ratified by the assembly and signed immediately by President Obaldia.

Rescue Mission Revival.

The interest attending the revival that has been in progress at the Rescue Mission, 431 Trimble street, for several weeks, continues. Large crowds are present each night and many are being reached. There are conversions at every service. Mr. and Mrs. Chiles have the names of a number of people desiring employment, especially as cleaners, that they can give on inquiry.

Murray, Ky., Jan. 28. (Special.)—Twenty-five loads of tobacco passed through Murray from the east side of the county between midnight and dawn this morning, on their way to Paris, Tenn., and Mayfield. advice of four physicians, who ordered complete rest. She was sent to Denver. Mrs. Young was with the Hackett company, playing "Classmates," and her popularity was attested by the ovation given her both by the audience and the company at her farewell appearance.

On her visits to her mother in Paducah, although they were her vacations, she graciously met every demand made upon her by her friends, the churches and charitable organizations, and generously contributed her talents and time to help her home town.

She was winning in personality and had a wide circle of warm friends in Paducah, where she was born and reared. Deep grief will be felt that her life should be so suddenly cut off.

Several years ago she was married to James A. Young, a talented actor, and the marriage was an ideal one. They played in different companies part of the time, but Mr. Young spent his vacations here with his wife. Besides her husband and her mother, Mrs. Young leaves two sisters, Mrs. Cleugh and Mrs. Henri Woelkewitz, of St. Louis. She was a devoted member of the Episcopal church.

LONE OAK FIGHTS FOR COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL LOCATION

Will Offer College Building and Ground For $5,000 a Year.

Arcadia Offers Grounds and $1,000.

CITY OFFERS HIGH SCHOOL

Lone Oak is in the heat of the fight for the location of the county high school, should the board of county school trustees decide to erect one. The little town will be represented by a delegation Saturday, and the proposition to donate a building and four acres of land will be presented. With the college building the Lone Oak citizens feel that the county will not be put to any expense for a building, and the high school can begin its sessions next September without delay. The college has been in session at Lone Oak several years, and this year has an average of 70 pupils, but it has been decided that the county high school would be more valuable and Lone Oak will pull hard for it. If the county will put up $5,000.

The interest in the question of establishing a separate county high school has set the farmers talking, and it is the chief topic of conversation in the rural districts, as the entire expense will have to be borne by taxation of the county, exclusive of the city. Many farmers have announced themselves opposed to the plan of a separate high school, and will fight it. The meeting of the trustees will be held in the office of County School Superintendent S. J. Billington, but already there have been rumors of so many delegations going to attend that it is probable the meeting will adjourn to the county court room or some place of sufficient size to accommodate the crowd.

The county school trustees will have three plans to pick from. The first is to co-operate with the city high school, and pay the tuition of all graduates of the county schools that may attend the school. In Arcadia the Gregory Heights Land company has offered to donate a block of ground, and property owners of that vicinity have offered to make a donation of $1,000. The latest proposition of the Lone Oak citizens is to give the college building and campus. It is tipped that the county school board will decide to erect a separate high school, as a sufficient number of trustees have expressed their views. However, after this decision a lively fight is expected as members of the fiscal court, by whom the money will have to be allowed, are opposed to the plan, as is County Judge Lightfoot.

At least three trustees are known to favor arrangements with the city, and Supt. Carnagay has been invited to address the board on the subject of sending rural school graduates to the city.

This was the verdict of the coroner's jury.

The men cited to appear in police court for gambling were: Aaron Tilley, Tom Holland, Green Poplin, Ike Cohen, D. Ritoff and Luby Veal while the warrant includes the names of Richard Howard, Bob Farmer and Gus Veal, but they are out of the city. The men are alleged to have played in the Hotel Belvedere, but the men deny that Mr. Robert E. Moshell, proprietor of the hotel, knew of the purpose for which the room was used. Futtrell Attempted Assault Case Promises Sensation.

PERSONALS FROM CALLOWAY

Murray, Ky., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—By agreement of parties the Alexander will case was reopened in county court and the matter has been settled. Mrs. Alexander withdrew her objections to the probate of the will, but renounces the instrument insofar as it affects her interest. This is permissible by the state law, which allows a wife that privilege, and she may choose to take a child's part of the widow's dower.

Futtrell Case.

The friends of Tom Futtrell, a farmer of near Alto, who was held to the grand jury on a criminal assault charge, preferred by Mrs. Babe Dixon, promise sensational developments when the case is finally tried in circuit court. Mrs. Dixon claims that Futtrell came to her house while she was alone and attempted to assault her. This Futtrell denies, though he admits going to the Dixon home and asking for a drink of water. He says the woman began to accuse him of coming to her house to insult her and screamed for her husband.

Mr. Futtrell stood for law and order during the recent "unpleasantness" in Calloway. His home is near the infected district. His friends claim he will be able to prove his innocence, and in doing so promise the sensation. The defense introduced no proof at the examining trial.

People With the President.

Washington, Jan. 28.—If President Roosevelt ever had a doubt that the people would be with him in his effort to prosecute the publishers who have criticized his manner of conducting the Panama canal negotiations, that doubt has been removed. The president is in receipt of letters from all over the country, telling him he is right and that the publishers are wrong, and expressing the hope that he will succeed in having the editors indicted and punished for criminal libel.

PROTEST AGAINST "BOOZE BANQUET"

Object to Use of Wine at Lincoln Centenary.

Quote Extract From Address on Notification for President When Water Was Used in Toast.

WAS AGAINST HIS PRINCIPLE

Chicago, Jan. 28.—The National Prohibition party headquarters issued a protest against what it calls the "booze banquet" to be held at Springfield, Ill., on February 12 in celebration of the centennial of President Lincoln.

It says the decision of the committee to use wine at the banquet is in defiance of the martyred president's principles.

As showing Lincoln's antipathy to the use of wines or liquors, the prohibitionists' protest quotes an extract of Lincoln's speech made at his home at Springfield, June 16, 1860, in the presence of the committee from the convention which named him for president.

With "Adam's Ale."

The extract follows: "Gentlemen we must pledge our mutual health in the most healthy beverage which God has given to man. It's the only beverage I have ever used or allowed in my family, and I cannot consistently depart from it on the present occasion. It is pure Adam's ale from the special spring."

All present then stood up and drank from cups of cold water. It is then stated that Lincoln afterwards frequently voiced his dislike for liquor and once said, "the next question after the reconstruction will be the overthrow of the liquor traffic."

TUBERCULOSIS NOTES.

According to a report issued recently by the local government board of London, the number of deaths from tuberculosis in England and Scotland has decreased by one-third in the last 50 years, falling from 54,918 in 1853 to 39,746 during the past year, while the death rate per 10,000 of population has fallen more than one-half, or from 29.8 to 11.5. In Ireland, on the contrary, the death rate per 10,000 has increased in 40 years from 24 to 27. Dr. Arthur Newsholme attributes the decrease in the mortality from consumption in England to effective segregation and institutional treatment of the advanced cases of the disease, which are known to be the centers of infection and spread of tuberculosis. The Irish medical authorities attribute the increase in the amount of tuberculosis to a combination of poor housing, insufficient and unwholesome food, bad sanitation, especially in the schools, and the large Irish emigration.

Dr. Maurice Fishberg is authority for the statement that the number of deaths from tuberculosis among the Jews is from one-third that observed among the non-Jewish population around them and living in the same urban environment. Dr. Fishberg attributes this remarkable vitality of the Jews, and their immunity to sickness in general, to the fact that they have been for over 2,000 years dwelling in the city and are thus able to withstand more than their neighbors.

As a means of checking tuberculosis in the principal cities of Brazil, the sanitary authorities of that country have instituted a campaign involving the expenditure of $1,250,000. The project includes the compulsory reporting of every case of tuberculosis, the establishment of hospitals, agricultural colonies and sanatoriums.

Nine deaths from tuberculosis were caused during the last year in the department of finance of New York city, due, it is claimed, largely to infection from the books and papers. After one of the bookkeepers in the department died recently at his work from a hemorrhage caused by consumption, the city health authorities closed the office and made a thorough fumigation of the books and premises.

FIRELESS STOVE.

How Laborer Got a Bottle of Hot Tea for His Noon Meal.

"Well, I think I'll heat me coffee for dinner," said a big laborer on one of the many buildings now being conducted in Chelsea a few minutes before noon the other day. And he proceeded to do so without the aid of fire or even the use of a match.

He took his bottle from his handbag and with it went over to the wooden contrivance in which mortar was mixed. He put about half a shovelful of sand in a corner of the mortar bed, having previously scraped that part of the bed dry and clean. Then the laborer took a piece of iron about as large as his two fists. He pushed the lump of lime down into the yielding sand, put his bottle standing upright on the lime, banked up the bottle with sand to hold it in position and was ready for the important part of the job.

Dipping about a pint of water from a cask near by the laborer poured it on the mound of sand easily, allowing it to percolate through the coarse grains. Putting on a little more sand to hold the bottle in its upright position, he went back to his work. In ten minutes the noon whistle blew and this laborer went to his fireless heater, took from it his tea boiling hot in a bottle that had at no time been in danger of breaking from the heat, and proceeded to enjoy his homely but hearty meal, all unconscious that he had performed a very interesting experiment in nature's chemistry.—Boston Herald.

try life is studying the sanitary condition of the farmers, and will lay special emphasis on tuberculosis in the rural districts.

Consumption costs the United States 200,000 lives of human beings double that number of cows and live stock and at least one billion dollars in money every year.

Very few people use more than a small percentage of their lung capacity, a fact which tends to produce consumption, especially in school children.

The negro mortality from tuberculosis in the United States is about 150 per cent greater than that of the white people.

Tuberculosis is much less common among coal miners than among other classes of people. According to the United States census statistics, miners and quarrymen occupy third place in the scale of least tuberculosis mortality, only bankers and farmers being more immune.

Dr. S. A. Knopf says: "A child predisposed to tuberculosis should not go to school before its eighth year."

Flies are spreaders of consumption by carrying the germs about from the sick to the well.

The recent death from tuberculosis of a three months' old baby in Newark, N. J., born to a woman who had been discharged from a sanatorium for marrying a fellow patient shows what effect tubercular environment will have. The father died before the baby was born. The mother is dying.

The health authorities of Chicago are endeavoring to make the railroads electrify their lines within the city. It is argued that 12,000 pounds of soot per acre in a year are deposited in some portions of the city by the soft coal used. The purification of the air and increase in sunlight secured by electrification would materially lessen the amount of tuberculosis.

NOTICE.

I urgently request all persons indebted to me to make settlement before the first day of May, 1909, as I will after that date bring suit on every unpaid note and account due me. Now your account is to each of you a small matter, while the whole is to me very important. I shall deal with all alike; if you don't pay you may know that you will be sued, whatever your name or color may be. I hate to do this, but I am forced to it in self-defense. If you have not the money and will borrow it to pay me in full by the first day of March, 1909, I will deduct 10 per cent from your account, thereby paying the interest myself. Is this not as fair as any sane man can ask?

FOR THE PUBLIC

New Formula Cures Coughs Colds, Bronchitis and Hoarseness in Five Hours.

Much is being done in these days to stop the ravages of consumption, but probably nothing has been so effective as teaching the public how to break up a cold and cure coughs, bronchitis, tonsillitis, etc., with simple home-mixed medicine free from opium, poisons, etc. A laxative cough syrup, free from whisky and poisons is the prime need. A cough indicates inflammation and congestion and these in turn are due to an excess of waste and poisons in the systems. A tonic laxative cough syrup aids the system of congestion while relieving the painful coughing. Get the following and mix at home: One-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence eucalypti and three ounces syrup white wine compound. Shake the bottle and take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times daily. Give children less according to age. Cut this out and save it for some friend.

CARMACK CARRIED HANCOCK.

Related Returns From June Primary Reach Nashville.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 27.—Hancock county went for Carmack for governor by two votes. This is the substance of a message that should have been received in Nashville on the night of June 27, the date of the primary. It was not received, however; neither was it received next day, the next week nor the next month.

Even the sub-committee of the state Democratic committee that met to canvass the vote could not get any news from Hancock county.

A newspaper man of Nashville met Mr. Stone, from Hancock county, who is attending the Masonic Grand lodge. The East Tennessee was pressed to know how his county went and under duress imparted the information that Carmack carried it by two votes.

POSTOFFICE BILL

PASSED THE HOUSE

Carries Appropriation of $234,000,000.

Bacon Assumes Office of Secretary of State, and Notifies the Diplomatic Officers of the Change.

OTHER WASHINGTON NEWS.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The short legislative session of the senate devoted to the transaction of routine business, was brought to an abrupt close by a motion to go into executive session to consider the Canadian waterways treaty. Senators desiring to consider various pending measures resisted the wish of the majority to dispose of this treaty and a yeas and nays vote was required to close the doors for executive business. The treaty was not disposed of.

In the House.

Washington, Jan. 28.—A variety of subjects occupied the attention of the house. The proceedings began with the adoption of a special committee report recommending the expunging from the record of the recent speech of Willett, of New York, denunciating of President Roosevelt.

Then, during further consideration of the post office appropriation bill the charge made by Rainey affecting Panama canal affairs cropped up again with the result that Weeks, of Massachusetts, entered the defense of Lodge, while Rainey reiterated his statements regarding the purchase of two ships at the instance of the Massachusetts senator.

The postoffice appropriation bill was amended in several particulars. The most important being the transferring of five hundred assistant superintendents, clerks, etc., of station from the one thousand to eleven hundred class, while the provision for the payment of necessary expenses of division superintendents, railway mail clerks and others while away from headquarters was stricken out. As amended the bill was passed, carrying over $234,000,000.

Bacon Takes Oath.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Mr. Bacon following his confirmation by the senate as secretary of state in succession of Secretary Root, took the oath of office. His first duty was to sign a batch of circular letters to the diplomatic officers notifying them of the SIMPLE MIXTURE STOPS ITCHING SCALP.

Most all men and women are troubled and annoyed with an itching scalp. This is caused by an unhealthy condition of the roots of the hair. Dandruff forms, and the dandruff germs set up an irritation that causes an itching sensation. This can be very easily overcome by a simple mixture you can prepare yourself. Get from your druggist half a pint of alcohol and one ounce of Beta Quinol mix the alcohol with half a pint of water (warm water preferred), then add the Beta-Quinol. Apply this every morning for a few days, rubbing well into the roots of the hair. This simple mixture will positively stop the itching. The Beta-Quinol will kill the dandruff germs—clean the scalp, strengthen and put new life into the hair, stopping it from falling out and leaving it in a light and fluffy condition. Any good druggist will sell you the Beta-Quinol and alcohol, and you can mix them at home.

Stomach Relief in Five Minutes.

Here is a simple mixture that is claimed will relieve any stomach disorder in five minutes after taking the first dose: Compound Tincture of Cinchona, one ounce; Prosecco Compound, one ounce; Sherry Wine, half a pint. Mix together and take a teaspoonful in a wineglass of water before meals. You can get the above ingredients at any first-class Prescription Drug Store.

VASELINE NO GOOD FOR HAIR.

Dandruff Germ Thrives In It, as Well as in All Grease.

A well known Chicago hair specialist invited the Inter-Ocean reporter to come to his office and see, under a microscope, how the germ that causes dandruff thrives in vaseline. The specialist said that all hair preparations containing grease, simply furnish food for the germs and help to propagate them. The only way to cure dandruff is to destroy the germs, and the only hair preparation that will do that is Newbro's Hair-Elide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Without dandruff no falling hair, no baldness. Ask for Herpelide. It is the only destroyer of the dandruff germ. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Cabinet Done.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The president-elect has sailed for Panama with out making any announcement of the personnel of his cabinet, but has said that he would make public his selections a few days before his inauguration. From several sources the information has been secured leading to the belief that as he sailed the president-elect had his cabinet tentatively made up, as follows:

Secretary of state, Philander C. Knox, of Pennsylvania.

Secretary of the treasury, a man from a state west of Ohio.

Secretary of war, Luke E. Wright, of Tennessee.

Attorney general, George W. Wickham, of New York.

Postmaster general Frank H. Hitchcock, of Massachusetts.

Secretary of the navy, George Von L. Meyer, of Massachusetts.

Secretary of the interior, R. A. Ballinger, of Washington.

Secretary of agriculture, James Wilson, of Iowa.

Secretary of commerce and labor, Charles Nagel, of Missouri.

Cleaning Up After Sewing.

For those who must sew, but who have no sewing room, there is a plan by which the sewer can save the time and labor that she formerly spent in tidying up the room after she has finished each night. Buy five yards of denim and cut it into two pieces. Join these together so as to form a square and hem the raw edges. Lay this square on the floor and set the machine on it. All threads, scraps and ravelings can be dropped on this, and when the sewer has finished for the day the machine can be covered and rolled off the denim and the denim can be gathered up and shaken.—Exchange.

Kodol digests all the food you eat. If you will take Kodol for a little while you will no longer have indigestion. It is pleasant to take, acts promptly. Sold by all druggists.

Daily Thought.

Think largely of yourself and your work, not as your own, but as God's.—C. F. Doie.

We don't know whether Fulton needs a new jail or a new jailer.

Paducah is flooded with tobacco, and her sidewalks with tobacco juice.

Arch Dunlap has a leading editorial in the Frankfort News, dealing with observations about very young children, in which he manifests a sympathetic interest in the subject and shows some personal investigations.

THE ART OF ORATORY.

Citizens should encourage the high school students in their oratorical efforts, not only to enable the future orator of the purchase to win the western Kentucky contest, but to give impetus to the endeavors of students in that direction. Athletics is sufficiently cultivated; but of late years there has been a decline all over the country in respect to preparation for public speaking, although there really is a greater call for ability of that sort, than ever before. Time was when the country had a few great orators, limited principally to the forum and the hustings and the bar. Now, however, with the multiplicity of organizations and popular assemblies, no one can tell when it will be necessary for him to present his opinions or arguments "on the floor", and his command of himself under such circumstances will have much to do, not especially with his popular success, but the success of the cause, which he may be advocating. Labor has its great leaders and orators today, and men from all occupations are called to public duties. While the youths are receiving their schooling is the time for them to learn to "think on their feet." County Attorney Barkley gave great impetus to public speaking in the school last year by offering a medal for declamation. A declamatory contest will be held again this year, and next year Professor Suggs probably will make public speaking one of the requirements of the course.

POPULAR PRIMARIES.

Fourteen new United States senators have been elected this month, and with the single exception of Indiana, where the time honored custom of caucus elections prevails, we have not heard of a charge of bribery or corruption. Can you recall such another year?

Indeed, in Oregon a Republican legislature elected a Democratic senator in compliance with the will of a majority of the people of the state. It may have been a bitter pill for those Republican legislators, and there was talk, emanating from Washington correspondents, of some national politicians taking a hand in the fight to defeat the will of the people, but there were no indications of such tampering when the time came to vote.

The popular primary in vogue in most of the states and promised in others had much to do with it. To be sure, they have not always worked the will of the people. For instance in Illinois a corrupt senator, by carrying the Democratic wards of Chicago—"Bath House" John Coughlin's and "Hinky Dink" Kenna's—defeated better men for the Republican senatorial nomination, and he is having a fight in the legislature. In Missouri Folk carried 85 per cent of the legislative districts for the Democratic nomination; but Stone secured a popular majority in the rotten wards of St. Louis and Kansas City. It would have been better had the senatorial instructions gone by districts instead of by popular vote. Then the country vote of Missouri would not have been nullified by the foreign colonies of the large cities.

It might have been better, too, if Oregon's primaries would instruct the legislators to vote for the senatorial candidate of their own party receiving the highest vote, instead of making the contest directly between two representatives of opposite parties. For instance, if the primary election was a contest between candidates in the same party for the nomination, the best man in the party would receive the instructions, and if his party had a majority in the legislature, he would be elected. It is not possible that, if the best man in the Republican party had been nominated for senator, the people would have chosen a Democrat and then elected a Republican legislature to vote for him. Republican politicians put out a man they could handle and the Democrats defeated him with a better man. That is what happened in Oregon, and after administering that rebuke to their political leaders the Republicans proceeded to elect men of their own party to the legislature. It will be a blessed thing when the real popular primary under state control reaches Kentucky; for it is absurd to place the party committee ridden primary of this state in the same category with those we have just mentioned. They are paid for by the state and held by state election officers, and all parties participate on the same day.

In Kentucky party committees, always factional, name the officers of election, and we fail to recall one, in which charges of fraud were not made by the losers. The candidates themselves pay for them, and the cost is so high that a poor man ordinarily is barred unless he has some friendly interest back of him, willing to pay his expenses in return for what he can do for it.

This sort of primary is a step worse than the party convention. It makes money the sine qua non of the whole institution. Instead of presenting public office in the nature of a sacrifice, which a freeman makes for his country or an honor conferred as the gift of a free people, it presents the office as a prize which requires in the first place the investment of a sum of money, varying according to the financial value of the prize the candidate is seeking. Having invested a sum of money, or having such a sum invested for him, the candidate is spurred on to win, by motives other than mere friendly rivalry or the anticipation of honorable service to the public. He has a selfish financial interest in the victory, and his actions thereafter may be expected to be colored by his sordid motives. Entering office in that frame of mind, what else can one expect, than has been disclosed by inspection of the state's books since a new administration has been in charge of them.

The times are growing better; the people are coming into their own. Some day the popular primary will be perfected, as its weak points are disclosed, and Kentucky will be in line by and bye.

The Courier-Journal yesterday published an educational supplement, dealing with Kentucky's chief problem, that will give great impetus to the cause.

The court of appeals has solemnly declared that farmers may lawfully pool their tobacco, just when the farmers are anxious to know how they can get out of it lawfully.

If hemp growers organize, instead of burning, as the tobacco night riders appropriately did, they may be expected to make their victims "stretch hemp".

The senate committee appointed to investigate the failure of the department of justice to prosecute the steel trust for the Tennessee coal and iron deal, reports that Roosevelt was right when he said it was none of the senate's business.

SOME STORIES

AROUND TOWN

The little two-year-old son of a prominent Paducah clergyman recently sounded his own emancipation proclamation in no uncertain fashion. He raised up to greet his father, who had just arrived home on the early morning train and sleepily announced: "Farder, I ain't a baby! I can whistle, I can spell my name—and I don't believe in Santa Claus! So there!" and he went back to slumber with a smile of contented bliss, leaving his father to recover from his astonishment as best he could.

Irvin Cobb writes from New York to correct a story The Sun had a few days ago on Paducah hangings, saying:

"Your expert was wrong in his story Saturday. Tom Allen's father, Eph Allen, first sheriff of the county, hanged a man for murdering a neighbor with a squirrel rifle, where the market stands, back in the early thirties."

That Mr. Cobb has a wonderful memory, this is but another bit of evidence. It has helped him immensely in his newspaper work. Apropos his newspaper work, Mr. Cobb covered the Hains trial for the World and did a fine piece of work. One of his first big "jobs" in New York was his covering the first Thaw trial, and it stamped him as a "star" man. A magazine, commenting on it at the time, said "of the thousands of sentences he wrote he did not construct one that was sloverly."

Hotel clerks as a rule have a great dread of something during their career as clerk, finding some person in one of the rooms, who had committed suicide or had been killed. It happened just a few days ago that a telephone message came for a traveling man at one of the local hotels. Looking to see if the man called for was in, the clerk noticed that the key to his room was gone and it is not customary for the keys to be out of the office unless its possessor is at his or her room, so the clerk called the room occupied by this particular gentleman. No one answered the phone so a bell boy was sent to the room and he reported to the office that the door was locked on the inside. The clerk's curiosity was aroused and he went to the room. He pounded on the door and made all the noise possible, but no one responded. The clerk became alarmed by this time. He finally managed, by going through a door into a closet and then into a bath room, to get to a door leading directly into the room. The clerk seized the knob and found the door unlocked. He started to open the door and go in, but the door opened only about three inches and then hit something with a thud. The clerk put his shoulder to the door and pushed with all his might. The door began to give and the clerk could observe the body against it, sliding slowly and heavily over the floor. By this time the clerk was certain the body was that of the man. When he opened the door far enough to get his head in, he saw the man for whom he was looking and for whom there was a telephone call, stripped of all his clothing and stretched out on the floor. The first thought of the clerk was to call a physician. The physician, after a thorough examination and a little time brought the man on the floor "to." When the physician asked him if he had taken anything, the fellow, with just one eye open, replied: "booze."

Sophy of Kravonia.

By ANTHONY HOPE.
Author of "The Prisoner of Zenda."
Copyright, 1906, Anthony Hope Hawkins.

While this was passing on Stafnitz's side Sophy and her party were working quietly and cautiously down the course of the ditch. Under the shelter of its bank they had been able to hold a brief and hurried consultation. What they feared was that Stafnitz would make a dash for the barges. Their fire might drop half his men, but the survivors when once on board—and the barges were drawn up to the edge of the stream—would still be as numerous as themselves and would command the course of the ditch, which was at present their great resource and protection. But if they could get on board before the enemy they believed they could hold their own. The decks were covered with impediments of one sort or another, which would afford them cover, while any party which tried to board must expose itself to fire to a serious and probably fatal extent.

So they worked down the ditch, except two of them. Little as they could spare even two, it was judged well to leave these. Their instructions were to fire at short intervals, whether there was much chance of hitting anybody or not. Dunstabury hoped by this trick to make Stafnitz believe that the whole detachment was stationed in the ditch thirty yards or more from the point where it joined the river. Only ten strong now and one of them a woman, they made their way toward the mouth of the ditch and toward the barges which held the prize they sought.

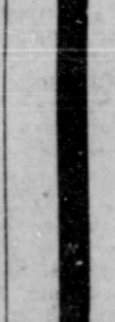

But a diversion and a very effective one was soon to come from the front of the barn. Fearing that the party under Sophy and Dunstabury might be overpowered, Lukovitch determined on a bold step, that of enticing the holders of the barn from their shelter. He directed his men to keep up a brisk fire at the door. He himself and another man, one Ossip Yensko, disregarding the risk, made a rapid dash across the line of fire from the barn for the spot where the horses were. The fire directed at the door successfully covered their daring movement. They were among the horses in a moment and hard at work cutting the bands with which they were tethered. The animals were half mad with fright, and the task was one of great danger.

But the maneuver was eminently successful. A cry of "The horses, the horses!" went up from the barn. Men appeared in the doorway. The sergeant major in command himself ran out. Half the horses were loose and stampeded along the towing path down the river. "The horses, the horses!" The defenders surged out of the barn in deadly fear of being caught there in a trap. They preferred the chances of the fire and streamed out in a disorderly throng. Lukovitch and Yensko cut loose as many more horses as they dared wait to release, then, as the defenders rushed forward, retreated, flying for their lives. Lukovitch came off with a fall in his arm; Yensko dropped, shot through the heart. The men behind the hill rallied the defenders with their fire. But now they were by their horses, such as were left of them. Nearer twenty than ten dotted the grass outside the barn door. And the survivors were demoralized. Their leader, the sergeant major, lay dead. They released the remaining horses, mounted and with one parting volley felled down the river. With a cry of triumph Lukovitch collected the remainder of his men and dashed round the side of the barn. The next moment Colonel Stafnitz found himself attacked in his rear as well as held in check from the ditch in his front.

"For a moment we thought it was our own men," said Rastatz, continuing his account, "and the colonel shouted, 'Don't fire, you fools!' But then they cheered, and we knew the Volensian accent—curse them! 'Sheepskins again!' said the colonel, with a very kind of smile. He didn't hesitate then; he jumped up, crying: 'To the barges, to the barges! Follow me!'"

"We all followed. It was just as safe to go with him as to stay where you were. We made a dash for it and got to the bank of the river. Then they rose out of the ditch in front of us and were at us behind, too—with steel now. They weren't shot for fear of hitting their own people in our front. But the idea of a knife in your back isn't pleasant, and in the end more of our men turned to meet them than went on with the colonel. I went on with him, though. I'm always for the safest place if there's one safer than another. But here there wasn't, so I thought I might as well do the proper thing. We met them right by the water's edge, and the first I made out was the witch herself, in sheepskins like the rest of them, white as a sheet, but with that infernal mark absolutely blazing. She was between Peter Vassip and a tall man I didn't know—I found out afterward that he was the Englishman Dunstabury—and the three came straight at us. She cried, 'The king, the king!' and behind us we heard Lukovitch and his lot crying, 'The king, the king!'"

"Our fellows didn't like it, that's the truth. They were uneasy in their minds about that job of the poor old Mitchell's, and they feared the witch like the devil. The heart was out of them.

"Sheepskins! Sheepskins!"

One had near me burst out crying. A witch and a ghost didn't seem pleasant things to fight. Oh, it was all nonsense, but you know what fellows like that are. Their cry of 'The king!' and the sight of the woman caused a moment's hesitation. It was enough to give them the drop on us. But the colonel never hesitated. He flung himself straight at her and fired as he sprang. I just saw what happened before I got a crack on the crown of the head from the butt end of a rifle which knocked me out of time. As the colonel fired Peter Vassip flung himself in front of her and took the bullet in his own body. Dunstabury jumped right on the colonel, cut him on the arm so that he dropped his revolver and grappled with him. Dunstabury dropped his sword, and the colonel's wasn't drawn. It was just a tussle. They were tussling when the blood came flowing down into my eyes from the wound on my head. I couldn't see anything more; I fainted. Just as I went off I heard somebody cry 'Hands up!' and I imagined the fighting was pretty well over."

Association Sales.

At the Planters' Protective association salesroom on lower Broadway about 75 hogheads of tobacco were sold today. The prices were satisfactory, ranging from $7 to $10 per hundred pounds. The tobacco sold was all leaf. Good sales are promised daily for the rest of this week. W. B. Kennedy, buying for the Italian government, and O. C. Hank, buying for the American Snuff company, purchased the tobacco today. About 200 types of this year's crop of tobacco have been received by W. N. Veal, salesman at the association rooms. The types are from Martin and Paris, Tenn., Murray and Paducah. The crop of this year shows up well from the types received and will no doubt bring good a price. More types of tobacco will be received daily for the next two weeks.

Loose Leaf Sales.

Sales of the loose leaf tobacco at Bohmer's warehouse this morning amounted to 40,000 pounds. The high price of $9.90, and the low price was $4.50. The bidding this morning was exceptionally strong. The strongest bidders and purchasers today were T. J. Stahl & company, John H. Hodge & company and several Louisville buyers. Other bidders were present and bid in small amounts. One little incident took place this morning which shows that the farmers are well satisfied. A Stewart county farmer had some tobacco sold this morning and the price he received was $8.90. After the sale this particular farmer said that $8.90 was just $2.25 more than he was offered for his tobacco anywhere else. There were no rejections at the sales today and there is a promise of the sales increasing daily.

The mints and all of the accessories were also in pink. Mrs. Lowenheim presided over the cutting of the bride's cake, which was decorated with lilies of the valley. BASKETBALL

THE FIRST GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL TEAM BEATS SECOND.

Score of 12 to 4. But the Game Was Interesting and Exciting Throughout.

The first basketball team girls won from the second team of girls of the High school yesterday afternoon by the decisive score of 12 to 4. Although the score was one-sided the game was interesting, as the second team played hard all the time. No brilliant plays marked the game, but the work of the players was good. Prof. W. A. Evans was referee. The teams lined up:
First Team—Katherine Rock, center and captain; Martha Cope and Rebecca Smith, forwards; Margaret Carnegie and Clara Smith, guards.
Second Team—Clara Stewart, center; Sarah Corbett and Henrietta Kahn, forwards; Grace Stewart and Nell Cave, guards.

MODIFICATION IN THE INFUNCTION

Recommended by the Miners
Union in Resolutions.

Before Another Judge Should Hearing on Violation of Writ Be Had —Started With Discard

BUT IT ENDED PEACEFULLY.

Indianapolis, Jan. 28.—Beginning with dissection between two factions, into which fourteen hundred delegates are divided, the session of the United Mine Workers' convention closed with concordant action upon numerous resolutions, the most important of which recommended a modification in court procedure in regard to the injunction.

It was the sense of the convention as expressed in this resolution and in the speeches that accompanied its adoption, that the restraining order should not be issued on application of an employer unless the employees against whom the order was directed had first been notified of the action and given a chance to appear in court, that in the case of contempt proceedings growing out of alleged violations of such injunction the hearing should be before another judge than the one that issued the writ, and that the trial should be by jury.

Trouble between the rivals was caused by the demand that President Lewis state whether the organizers present were paid out of the national treasury or by their local unions. The motion was ruled out of order.

The convention refused to endorse the movement of an independent political party. A resolution declaring for public ownership of the means of production of wealth was adopted unanimously.

A BOLD STEP

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broad-cast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines.

Thus Dr. Pierce has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits and placed them in a class all by themselves by making them remedies OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, overworked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native, medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

Tobacco is unloaded in large, flat baskets, each grade to itself, weighed and receipt given owner, showing number of draft and pounds thereof. A corresponding ticket is placed on each pile. The highest bid is written on ticket and, should owner accept same, by presenting at office receipt previously given, the cash is handed over.

Should the bid offered not be satisfactory, the tobacco can be offered the next day or at any other time thereafter.

It costs absolutely nothing to offer your tobacco unless bid is accepted, in which case we charge 15 cents per hundred pounds and 2 cents on the dollar.

The greatest demand among manufacturers and dealers is for loose tobacco and, since it will bring more money offered loose, why go to the expense of having prized, stored, insured, inspected and looked after?

You will get more money for your tobacco when offered to the highest bidder in open competition with twenty-five buyers trying to buy than when you expect or require one buyer to buy millions of pounds without competition at a round price.

ECZEMA CURABLE? PROVEN!

Attorney of Moline, Ill. Convinced By Oil of Wintergreen Compound.

There is nothing that will convince a lawyer except evidence.

Now, here is some rather startling evidence of a simple home cure for eczema which convinced one lawyer, F. C. Enriken, attorney at Moline, Ill. He tells how oil of wintergreen compound mixed with thymol and glycerine, as in D. D. D. Prescription, cured him in thirty days after thirty-two years of suffering.

"For 32 years," writes Attorney Enriken, "I was troubled with eczema, scales all over my face, body and head. I could run a hair brush over my body and the floor would be covered with scales enough to fill a basket. I tried everything—salves, internal medicine, X-Ray—all without result."

"Just a month ago I was induced to try D. D. D. Prescription. The itch was relieved instantly; so I continued. It is just a month now and I am completely cured. I have not a particle of itch and the scales have dropped off."

"I can only say again CURE DISCOVERED. I am now starting an eczema sufferers on the right track."

Cure after cure has been brought to our attention and always that instant relief from the awful itch.—R. W. Walker Co.

Parade Will be One of the Most Picturesque.

A Unique Organization of Men Who Are Not Office Seekers Form a Club for the March.

FILIPINOS ARE TO BE IN LINE

Washington, Jan. 28.—The Taft Inaugural parade will be a combination of interesting and novel features. Nearly every day some organization of a more or less picturesque character makes application for a place in the marching column.

In these days when President-elect Taft is beset with office seekers it is refreshing to learn that Thomas P. Morgan, chairman of the committee on civic organizations, has received an application for a place in the parade from an organization which expressly declares that it is composed of men "who are not federal office holders nor seekers for government positions but plain citizens who worked like geese for the election of Taft and Sherman."

No doubt this organization of marchers who want nothing will take first rank among the attraction of the big parade. The politician who comes to Washington these days without wanting something is a rare bird and a whole organization of such politicians will be a sight worth seeing. It is known as "The Original Roosevelt Club" of St. Paul, Minn.

A striking feature of the great Inaugural parade will be a solid column of 3,000 American "Jackies," fresh from the world-encircling cruise of the battleship fleet. Headed by naval bands Uncle Sam's sailors will march in compact phalanx with the swinging stride for which they are noted the world over.

The Jackies from the battleship will constitute the purely naval division of the inaugural parade. These men, who are now in the Mediterranean sea, will arrive in Hampton Roads February 22 and will take an active part in the big marine parade in those waters, which is to be reviewed by the president and the naval authorities. A few days later they will be transported to this city on the transports Prairie and Dixie and the historic old wooden cruiser Hartford.

Philippine Bugle Corps.

In addition to the 3,000 American "Jackies" and the noted Philippine constabulary band announcement has just been made that the Ninth Cavalry Trumpet Corps and Camp Grath, Batangas, Philippine Islands, may be expected to Washington to take part in the parade. It is said by officers of other armies who recently visited the Philippines that the Ninth cavalry has the best bugle corps of any military organization in the world. It is promised that if the corps comes to Washington it will show the people something new and interesting in purely military music.

The home city of the president-elect will be splendidly represented in the marching column. The Blaine club of Cincinnati, one of the most famous political organizations in the country, has been assigned space. The Stamina Republican league, of Cincinnati, will send a representation of 200 of its members and a band of 15 pieces.

The largest display of militia in the parade will come from the state of Pennsylvania. Col. William F. Richardson, quartermaster of the Pennsylvania National Guard, who is here making arrangements for quarters for his troops, says that the Keystone state will be represented in the parade on March 4 by as fine a body of infantry as ever marched up the avenue on inauguration day.

"Our representation," said Col. Richardson, "will be composed of one brigade of about 3,000 men, which is the largest single body allowed under the rules of the inaugural committee to appear in the parade. Each regiment in the state will be represented and, as an incentive, announce has been made that as an award of merit only companies as make the best showing in a competitive drill will be selected. By this means we hope to form a body of men that cannot fail to reflect credit on the national guard of our state."

Colored Students in Line.

The Rev. Dr. Thirkfield, president of Howard University, the well-known colored institution of this city, has announced that about 500 of the students and graduates of the institution are prepared to appear in the procession, accompanied by a band. This institution had a similar representation ready to march in the parade four years ago but through some error in the assignment of places it was overlooked.

Ohio will be well represented in the parade. Governor Harmon, a Democrat, will ride at the head of the Ohio division, which will include at least 2,500 soldiers of the national guard. An effort will be made to draw Taft's state a large degree of attention as the marchers pass in review up Pennsylvania avenue. As a special feature of the Ohio contingent, eighty boys from Miami University will have the place of honor and, with their fine uniforms and splendid marching, they hope to equal, if not surpass, all the school organizations in the line. The Ohio visitors will

AFTER FOUR YEARS OF MISERY

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—"For four years my life was a misery to me. I suffered from irregularities, terrible dragging sensations, extreme nervousness, and that all gone feeling in my stomach. I had given up hope of ever being well when I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Then I felt as though new life had been given me, and I am recommending it to all my friends."—Mrs. W. S. Ford, 1925 Lawrence St., Baltimore, Md.
The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test of years and to-day is more widely and successfully used than any other female remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. If you are suffering from any of these ailments, don't give up hope until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.
If you would like special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. She has guided thousands to health, free of charge.

Indians on Parade.

The Osage Indians, of Oklahoma, have made arrangements for a position in the civic division of the parade for the Osage council of the nation, which will come to the inauguration accompanied by its secretary and an interpreter. The Osage council is made up of ten men, nine of whom are full-blooded Indians and the other one is a half-breed. Five of the council wear the original dress of the Osage nation and the others wear the dress of the whites. The council is composed of the leading men of the nation.

Plans for police protection during the inauguration, which have just been completed, show that this city will be patrolled by more policemen than were ever gathered before in the United States.

No Chance for Thieves.

There will be policemen and detectives from all over the country, and the thieves and swindlers who are expected to invade the national capital will find their operations seriously impeded.

In addition to the regular force of policemen on duty in Washington, Superintendent of Police Sylvester has appointed 400 special policemen. Four hundred citizens of the district will be vested with police authority. About 300 detectives, gathered from all of the big cities in the United States, will be here.

In addition to this army of sleuths, railroad officials have made arrangements to send almost their entire forces of private detectives to guard incoming and outgoing trains in Washington. The Union station probably will be the center of police activity, with detectives present who are familiar with the faces of all the best known professional thieves and pickpockets in the country.

ARE LOST TO NEW YORK.

Through the Limitations the Arm-Strong Law Has Put Upon Life Insurance Companies.

New York, Jan. 28.—There is quite an interest being manifested in financial and life insurance circles over insurance matters. The various New York companies are making their annual statements, giving in detail their operations during the past year. The year 1908 shows little improvement over the year 1907. The limitations and regulations placed on the domestic companies, on account of the Arm-Strong law, has almost stopped the fear of any additional money coming to New York state through the life insurance channels. The total new business is, all told, barely sufficient to cover the death losses. While the total amount of life insurance written last year was greater than ever before outside of the New York companies, it proves the other cities are becoming insurance centers, and will not only benefit by the millions of dollars of first premiums, but will continue to receive the renewal premiums on these millions that heretofore came to New York.

It is estimated by those in a position to know that it means a loss to New York of over $200,000,000 annually. The entire financial interest of New York is affected. The life companies are endeavoring to acquaint their policy holders with the present status and future possibilities, believing that legislation follows what it believes public opinion to be and that these policy holders are numerous enough to influence public opinion materially. There is a general feeling in New York and elsewhere that the policy holders and public would be interested in the repeal and modification of the present law if the high officials of the companies, especially those little versed in life insurance, would lessen their personal gains and salaries.

COKE! COKE! COKE!What IS Coke?

COKE is a pure high grade coal with smoke, soot, cresote and noxious gases removed, an almost pure and clean carbon. No chimneys burn out where coke is used.

Coke is fine for all kinds of grates, cook and heating stoves and furnaces.

Coke burns with a steady, clean, blue, hot flame.

Coke will burn in fire-place grates and when banked (or covered) with a thin coating of ashes, will last all night.

Hundreds of Paducah people will testify as to its cheapness and desirability.

Price, delivered within one mile of gas works:

Lump, for furnaces, 9c per bushel, or $4.50 per ton
Crushed, for stove, fire places, etc., 10c per bushel or $5.00 per ton.The Paducah Light & Power Co.

GREAT SERMON ON "ATHEISM" HEARD

Dr. W. J. Moody Address a Big Audience.

Bible Institute at the First Baptist Church is Attracting Much Attention.

TOMORROW IS THE LAST DAY

A sermon strong in power and thought was delivered last night at the First Baptist church by Dr. D. J. Moody, and it proved one of the best of the sermons during the Bible institute that has been held at the church this week. Dr. Moody, who is a gifted speaker, spoke on "Atheism," and the manner in which he handled his subject convinced the large audience that he had expended much thought in study.

Services at the other three churches were well attended. Tomorrow will be the final day of the institute, and one of the strongest programs of addresses will be offered. Dr. Calvin M. Thompson, editor of the Western Recorder, will speak on "The Authority of the Scriptures," and aside from the members of his former congregation a large number of students of the Bible will attend.

The devotional exercises this morning were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Ballance. Dr. C. M. Thompson, of Louisville, delivered a powerful sermon, "The Atonement." The services in the morning closed with an address on "The Bible Doctrine of Adoption," by the Rev. J. D. Maddox.

This afternoon the devotional exercises were lead by the Rev. J. R. Stewart, who was followed by the Rev. W. D. Nowlin in a sermon on "The Moral Dignity of Baptism." A sermon on "Salvation and Rewards" by the Rev. W. E. Hunter closed the services until this evening, when sermons will be preached at all of the Baptist churches in the city.

FREIGHT WRECKS

DELAY TRAIN NO. 103 FIVE HOURS THIS MORNING.

Cars Off the Track at Nortonville
and Paducah—The Passengers Hungry.

Train No. 103, the fast Illinois Central passenger train from Louisville to Memphis, was held out by two wrecks this morning and did not arrive until after 8 o'clock, although due in Paducah at 3:52 o'clock. The first wreck was near Nortonville, where some freight cars were off the track, and after an hour's delay the train started. Near Gravel Switch, about 15 miles east of Paducah, freight train No. 182, that left Paducah at 4:45 o'clock, headed into a sidetrack to allow a clear track for the passenger train to pass. Box cars were on the siding and the engine struck the string, piling up a car in the freight train. The freight car was partly on the main line and not until after several hours of work could the wrecker clear the track. The passenger train arrived in Paducah at 8:05 o'clock.

Some of the passengers had good appetites, as the train carried no dining car, and there was no place to buy food. The regular dining car is coupled to the train at Fulton. Owing to the delay the dining car was brought up to Paducah on the fast passenger. It was a hungry set of travelers that invaded the dining car as the train left the station. No one was hurt in the wreck.

Many a man has lost his life in trying to collect the living he thought the world owed him.
